Elementary Teachers Receive Raises

The Warren school board went along with the Warren area joint school board's recent action concerning teacher salary increases when it met Monday. The same schedule of salaries previously approved for high school teachers was established for the elementary. This amounts to a minimum of $3,500, and a maximum of $5,300 for those with bachelor degrees, and $5,700 for those with masters.

The board learned that sufficient interviews and applications have been received to assure filling the known teacher vacancies expected next fall. Much help in this respect is the new salary schedule which is higher than the Pennsylvania average.

The budget of $962,350 was formerly adopted, and receipts from the state were acknowledged. These included $728 for February lunches, $658 for March lunches, $728 for the March recreation program, and over $400 for health reimbursement.

The board accepted the resignation of Claude Feiro as head custodian and employed Emil Erickson to do maintenance work. It accepted the resignation of Mrs. Annetta Bonavita as Jefferson janitress.

The June meeting will be held June 11, at 7 p. m.

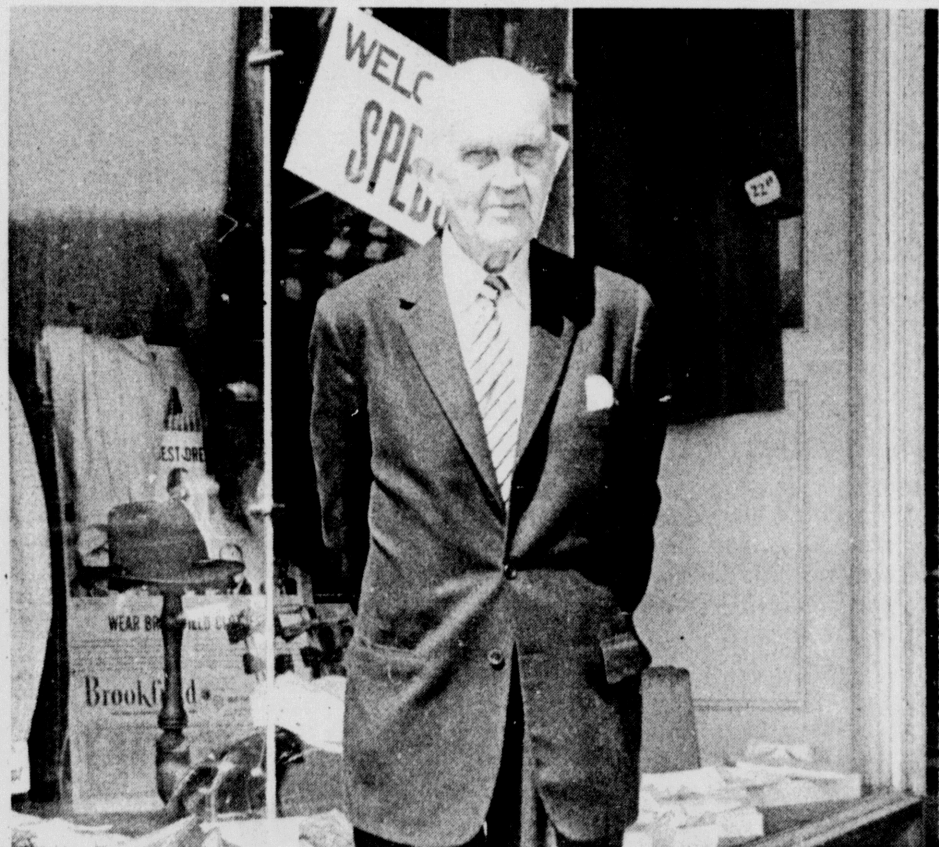

CLOSE. Two Warren trackmen coast over the hurdles chest to chest in a recent meet. At the left is Mike Shanshala and edging him just a bit is Jon Wiedmaier.

HIGH SCHOOL ART is on exhibit in the Warren library gallery. The entire wall is circled with free hand drawings, mechanical drawing, and oil paintings. There also is a display of ceramics. Here we see the work of Francis Mahood.

YOUNG DEMOCRACY at work. Warren high school students used a voting machine to elect officers of their student council. It assured a fair election and they learned something about a machine which they should see at least twice a year when they become eligible.

DOING BUSINESS daily, despite an eightieth birthday which is coming up, is J. A. Johnson. He walks to work every day and operates his Warren clothing store without help. His birthday is Monday.

LEARNING TO SWIM at the YMCA is this group of area girls. Under the instruction of Robert Hammerbeck, physical director, more girls are receiving swimming lessons at the "Y" now than ever before in the history of the local association. This is one of several classes that meets every Thursday afternoon.

SEASON OPENERS. Four golfers tune up for the opening day competition near the first tee at the Conewango Valley Country Club. Professional Paul Porter, Pete Juliano, Hans Link, and Sam Rasmussen prepare for the first hole march.

For every man who lives to be 85, there are seven women—but by that time, it's too late!

SHAKING OUT the bowling kinks is Pete Juliano. However, he was good for a 39 the opening day of the competitive season at the Conewango Valley Country Club. Dr. Wally Sedwick was low with 36.

Buick SPECIAL
6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera,
Model 46R

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

—but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:
Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here — and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too — and nowhere else — you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.

This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

ENTERTAINING INSTANTLY

Iced tea time is here, bringing with it the fun of entertaining, serving luscious desserts accompanied by that most thirst-quenching of all beverages, iced tea. A crystal clear pitcher is a nice choice for iced tea because the sparkling amber beverage, well iced and frosty, makes an inviting picture of pure refreshment. For an extra-festive touch, circle the base of the pitcher with delicate rosebuds, daisies or other small flowers.

Sparkling iced tea is simple to prepare these days with the new improved Instant Tender Leaf Tea. It is 100 per cent pure tea, a combination of selected orange pekoe and pekoe black tea, which is brewed for you, flash-dried and bottled, ready for making into a perfect beverage, either by the single glass or in a pitcher. Simply dissolve a measured amount of tea in a small quantity of boiling water, according to label directions. Add cold water and ice—and a truly refreshing and flavorful drink is ready to serve.

SPRING DAY CAKE

- 1 10-inch sponge or orange chiffon cake
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 1 package instant banana cream pudding
- 1 pint fresh strawberries

With a sharp knife, split cake into four layers. Pour milk and cream into a deep, one-quart bowl. Add instant pudding and beat until well mixed, about 1 minute. Let pudding thicken to good spreading consistency, about 5 minutes. Spread between cake layers and top of cake. Garnish with fresh strawberries, sliced in half.

MOTHERS HAVE BIG NIGHT

Pictured here are scenes of the Betty Lee Mothers' Day Party, held last evening, with numerous prizes for mosts, ranging from most anniversaries to most grandchildren. The annual event seems to be much enjoyed by ladies of the community and a good attendance always is assured.

Typical of the winners were Mrs. Nelson, 94, of Marion st., who was the oldest mother present, and Mrs. Alice Bush, of Chandler's Valley who had the most grandchildren, 69. Mrs. Mumford of Tidioute had the most great grandchildren, 66.

READY TO GO. Ben White has his big screen up at the Whiteway and is set to panaram entertainment at you in the biggest of style. The popular spot may open Friday, if the weather allows.

In Brief

A HOTEL FOR WARREN seems to be a certainty. The question now is, who will build it? With leading business men discussing the problem with Fred C. Burris, of the Hockenbury company, specialists in financing and planning hotels, Mel Anderson announced that the Carver Hotel Incorporated, of which he is the president, would rebuild. This changes the picture.

It is doubtful if any group now will organize for the purpose of erecting such a building. The talk of motels continues and we expect at least two new ones to spring up. But authorities on hotels say that no matter how many motels are available, over half the traveling public will prefer a modern hotel.

Mr. Anderson said he would build on the site of the former hotel and that parking facilities were being studied. He mentioned a figure near one hundred when questioned about the number of rooms. He said architects would be brought in soon and a variety of plans would be studied... all fire-proof, of course.

Meanwhile, the Warren Chamber of Commerce prepares for any eventualities by signing a contract with the Hockenbury System Inc. for that company to send a hotel expert into Warren on a month's notice to make a survey preparatory to a financial campaign. In addition, two local business organizations and one New York state concern have been considering Warren as a site for large motels or a hotel.

Mr. Burris told the Chamber that a new hotel would mean about three-quarters of a million dollars per year to Warren. He recommended that the construction be done through community-wide subscriptions.

KEEPING IN STEP with the trade, United Refinery announced this week that it would spend about two million to modernize its plant. Higher test products to meet the demand of high compression engines, as already advertised by leading gasoline distributors, makes such a step necessary for progressive refineries.

The former Riverside Acid Works, just west of the United, will be the site on which the fluid catalytic cracking unit, gas concentration unit, treating plant, and other facilities will be constructed by Procon Incorporated, of Chicago. The high octane process has been licensed to United by Universal Oil Products Co.

CIVIL SERVICE rules for Warren's commission will be considered by the Warren borough council, Monday evening. The new rules cover the methods of organizing the commission, acting on applicants for the police and fire department, promotion of members of these departments, and the formal steps of discharging such members. About everything seems to be covered except the fire chief and police chief, and how members of the commission are appointed.

There also may be a report by the public service committee on the possibility of Warren opposing proposed gas and telephone rates. Warren many years ago took such action, but the current council is not expected to relish the suggestion.

Council also will open bids on this year's paving and sewer projects.

IN POLITICS we find Tom Conway the choice of one faction in the Democrat party for the office of chairman. On the Republican side we hear that Jesse Smith, after twenty years of it, no longer wishes to be chairman, and the quieting influence of Assemblyman Allen Gibson may be utilized to calm potential storms. He probably will be the chairman.

OFF TO PHILADELPHIA goes Attorney Sam Bonavita to attend the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Young Republicans. He will be the retiring president.

$4,600 SHORT is the Warren county cancer drive story. In a battle that will require all our resources this county has failed to do much more than pay half its share of the cost. Further proof of our contention that such funds should come from tax money. Too many people are the first to reach for the benefits but the last to pay their share.

THE WINNERS after the last modulated note had faded away this past week end, following two days of barbershop competition in Beaty school, were the Quantitones of Buffalo and the Chordmasters of Binghamton. But Warren was not left out. It was placed very much in the winning circle when its chorus took the honors in that division.

TWO WERE KILLED in a head-on collision which occurred Friday evening, May 4, about 1 1/2 miles east of Warren on rt. 6. The dead are Roy G. Power, 32, of 28 Barn st., Sheffield, who died Sunday morning, and Hazel M. Thurston, 64, of 440 Prospect st., Warren. Miss Thurston died the evening of the accident. Both were drivers of the cars involved.

Also injured were Mrs. Irene Power, and Elmer Jones, Jr., of 17 State st., North Warren, both passengers of the Power car. They were admitted to the hospital. Mrs. Power has been discharged and the condition of Mr. Jones is described as satisfactory. He suffered head injuries.

The accident occurred when the Power car began to swerve while driving east. Going west were cars driven by Carl Anderson, of Sheffield, and Mrs. Thurston. Mr. Anderson managed to avoid the Power car, but Mrs. Thurston was unable to escape the head-on collision.

THE FIRST DIVIDEND from the Warren County Probation Association's permanent endowment fund was turned over to the Warren county commissioners by John P. Wendell, vice president of the Association, yesterday in a formal ceremony at the court house. Though it was small, derived from the first $2,000 paid into the fund, it foretold what can be expected in the future as the basic fund grows and dividends become sufficiently large to do a complete job.

And incidentally, if you haven't sent a donation to this important fund, it always is welcome. Send it to the Warren County Probation Association, Warren county court house, Warren, Penna.

EXCUSED are the jurors for next week's court. There are no trials scheduled.

CUTS AND BRUISES were suffered by Rose Conklin, age 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Conklin, of 8 S. Irvine st., when her bicycle collided with a car, Tuesday afternoon. Driver of the car was Owen B. Carlberg, of Sheffield. The accident occurred on South South st.

SURPLUS FOODS will be distributed by Warren county commissioners next Wednesday. They may be picked up at the usual distribution points.

THE CARVER HOTEL fire will be back in the news next week. The investigation by local and state officials should be completed and an inquest will be held Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the court house.

OFF-STREET PARKING on the YMCA tennis court to accommodate thirty-two cars has been approved by the Warren borough parking authority, and the Warren C. of C. retailers committee has agreed to solicit the funds from retailers and business men, with Joe Krimmel as chairman.

Warren will be asked to take over the lot and erect sixteen twin-headed meters, which it is believed will liquidate the investment in five years. Jake Levinson, chairman of the parking committee, says this is the first step of the authority toward solving the parking problem.

WASH THE STREETS is the request of the Warren C. of C. retailers committee, which believes the firemen could hose off the dirt and cinders. Council will be asked to cooperate.

102 PINTS OF BLOOD were donated at Struthers Wells yesterday when the bloodmobile came to town. It will be at the Warren State hospital May 27, and will be in Warren June 29.

ANOTHER APPEAL to the state supreme court will be made by attorneys for Norman W. Moon, convicted murderer of Judge Allison D. Wade. The appeal will take exception to the opinion handed down by Judge Alexander C. Flick in March when he dismissed twenty-two exceptions taken by defense council.

MEMORIAL DAY SPEAKER for Warren this year will be Lewis Crippen, Warren county commissioner and a prominent Democrat leader. He also is well known for his features and pictures which have appeared in the Observer.

WARREN AIRPORT repairs will be made through a combination of local contributions and state funds if the Warren Chamber of Commerce can find givers. Stanley Doebler has been appointed chairman of an airport committee for the improvement of the field and to raise money for that purpose. Meanwhile, plans continue for a new port in the northern part of the county.

INJURIES WERE sustained late last evening by H. Maxine Boyd, of 209 Market st., when her car collided with one driven by W.L. Shadle, of 500 Market st. The accident occurred on Pennsylvania ave. when Shadle pulled out of a parking place and attempted a left turn in front of the Boyd car. He was charged with reckless driving. Miss Boyd was taken to the hospital but did not require attention.

PERSONAL HEADLINERS

ELECTED EXECUTIVE Vice President of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce was Earl Abel, Jr., one of Warren's leading Jaycee members. He also received the Frank J. Pasquerilla award, given to an outstanding state officer, and in his case earned as an active national director.

ELECTED REGIONAL vice president of the Jaycees was Bill Houston, of Warren.

Hot Stove Brings Pony Game Here June 9

Jamestown will meet Bradford in a regulation Pony league baseball game on War Memorial field, June 9, with the Hot Stove league as sponsor. The game will be played at twilight, 5:30, so that all can attend, and will be staged a week later if the weather doesn't cooperate.

Preceding the game in the afternoon a clinic will be provided Warren's young players under the guidance of the visiting team members. Managing Jamestown is Jerry Lawson. The field manager is Pat Mullen, former Detroit outfielder. The field manager for Bradford is Randy Gumpert, White Sox and Yankee pitcher.

Tickets will cost 75 cents, including tax. Young people up to and including high school age will be admitted for 25 cents. Tickets will be placed on local stands when they are ready.

The Hot Stove league now has about 900 players who are lined up on 60 teams. The league will open officially on June 1. The greatest need is team handlers. Anyone wishing to help should attend next Wednesday's meeting, in the YMCA, at 7:30.

UP THE SYLVANIA ladder got two Warren men, Art Chapman and Marion Pettegrew. Both were vice presidents, and continue so, but in positions of greater responsibility. Mr. Chapman's office will be in New York, where he will do company-wide planning and coordination in automation and equipment development, purchasing, traffic, industrial engineering, and will evaluate facilities of new acquisitions.

Mr. Pettegrew succeeds Mr. Chapman in the operation of the Radio and Television division.

NEW PRESIDENT of the Warren County Ministerial association is the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge. He is pastor of the Trinity Memorial church.

INITIATED to the honor society of agriculture, Gamma Sigma Delta, was Marjorie J. Taylor, 107 Cray ave., Sheffield, senior in horticulture at Penn State university.

ACCEPTED by the National High School Institute in the journalism division of Northwestern university is Barbara Greenwald, Warren high school junior. She will study all phases of journalism for a five week period this summer.

ARRIVING IN NEW YORK on May 14 after a two year stay in Madrid, Spain, are Mr. and Mrs. Caryll Whipple, both of Warren. Arriving with them will be Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, also of Warren, who has been visiting them in Spain. They also will be accompanied by Miss Lydia Beltron, the 18-year-old Spanish daughter of a Baptist minister in Madrid. Miss Beltron will study medical ministry in the United States.

FAMED 'RESCUE STREET' of the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., rescue school, a $200,000 collection of carefully-designed ruins similar to the various structures civil defense rescue workers would face back home in extricating victims of bombings. Up to 70 students are checked out on the built-in obstacles during each week or two-week course. (FCDA Photo)

School for Survival

FCDA Trains Rescue Corps

Twenty miles from downtown Washington is the world's greatest "theater"—a gigantic stage setting without a stage, professional actors or scenario.

Amidst a backdrop of "bombed-out" building ruins, volunteer "actors" and "actresses" periodically put behind the day's workaday world to become "victims" at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., Rescue School.

WHILE BURNING OIL is played on stairways and other key spots in the ruins by a remote control panel, students at the national rescue school enter the flaming structures and actually rescue the volunteer "victims."

Some "victims" pretend unconsciousness. Others simulate situations the rescue workers would meet in an actual civil defense disaster by becoming "hysterical," and even by kicking and fighting their would-be "rescuers."

Seldom, however, do professional rescue instructors standing by actually have to enter the ruins to help out their students during the "final exam" of the two-week course. And never are the volunteer victims actually in danger, for they have been placed in areas known to be safe from the hidden flaming oil jets.

THE 'FINAL EXAM' of the two-week heavy-duty rescue course at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., rescue school comes complete with flames, smoke, human "victims" and fire equipment from adjoining areas in Maryland and Virginia. (FCDA Photo)

Rescue 'Victim' Make-up Emphasizes Realism

MAKE-UP MAN Jack Newlin, an instructor at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., rescue school, applies finishing touches to some volunteer rescue "victims." The rescue school, opened in August 1952, has graduated thousands of students who became rescue instructors back in their home towns. (FCDA Photo)

STARK REALISM in make-up and placing of "victims" in the flaming "bombed-out" training buildings is designed to test both the physical and emotional stamina of students at the Federal Civil Defense Administration's Olney, Md., rescue school. Effects such as the bloody stump of an arm (above) are achieved by strapping on rubber or plastic "moulages." (FCDA Photo)

NOEL COWARD IN COCKNEY

I donned a dinner jacket Saturday night, considering this the only proper way to watch a Noel Coward vehicle, and then found myself watching the elegant Mr. Coward playing a middle class family man who was speaking something that was almost but not quite cockney. A nasty jar. "This Happy Breed", which Mr. Coward wrote and acted in in England in 1939, is a sort of lower case "Cavalcade" about an ordinary Englishman in an ordinary English home in an ordinary English suburb. It opens with the Gibbons family moving into "the ordinary English house" in 1919 after Frank Gibbons (Mr. Coward) is "demobbed" from World War I. It ends twenty years later with England on the brink of another great war.

In between--the old Edna Ferber ingredients--there have been births and marriages and death in the family. The story line hovers fairly close to tears throughout, some times happy tears, sometimes unhappy ones. Mr. Coward has stated that his play could take place anywhere--South Orange, N.J., for instance--but I rather doubt this. The stiff upper lip is a peculiarly British institution. Not that they have any less courage in South Orange than in South London--but the words and the attitudes are quite different.

Coward, for example, plays a middle class Englishman who is thoroughly content with his class and rather opposed to change of any sort. "You know," he says at one point, "we're not used to doing things quickly in this country. We're a nation of gardeners--maybe slow, maybe a bit dull. But it suits us fine."

This is more or less the text of the sermon, and I doubt that you'd hear it said like that in South Orange. When his son develops disturbingly left-wing sympathies, Coward says soothingly: "You and me don't seem to see things the same way...After the war, this country suddenly got tired. It's up to us ordinary people to keep things steady." "Thanks, Dad," says the boy. I don't think that dialogue would take place quite like that in South Orange either.

He is considerably less tolerant with a daughter who is dissatisfied with her lot. "You're trying to be something you're not," he snaps at her. Says the daughter: "You don't believe in bettering yourself, do you?" And, of course, he doesn't. The revolt against class is even more serious than revolt against government. And when the girl runs off with a married man, her mother (Edna Best) says quietly: "What she's done, she's done, and I'll never forgive her for it." British middle class respectability is a formidable thing.

But of course, she does forgive when the girl gives up her erring ways and marries the sailor who has loved her all along. A very effective scene it is, too, played way, way down. Understatement is something Coward does extremely well. The best scene in the play came when the Gibbons learn of the death in an automobile accident of their son. The couple are offstage in the garden when their daughter goes to tell them. The stage is empty, the radio blaring dance music. Then the couple come in, tearless and speechless, and simply sit down, hand in hand on the sofa. That's all.

All the performances by a predominately British cast were excellent. Coward was astonishingly good in a sort of role I never thought I'd see him in. He and Miss Best first played together a generation ago in "The Constant Nymph" in 1924, and they are truly a marvelous team. As the wayward daughter, Patricia Cutts, who is normally seen here on the quiz show "Down You Go', revealed she should be doing more acting and less guessing. At the end the Gibbons are departing the house which, with the children gone, is now much too large. There is a pram there, indicative of the continuity of the English middle class. And off camera Coward is quoting from "Richard II": "This happy breed of men, this little world.... This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England"--sentiments you hardly ever hear in South Orange. (C) 1956 New York Herald Tribune, Inc.

MOVIES PURCHASED

Twenty-four movies purchased from Republic will be shown by KDKA, starting June 9, at 11:35 p. m. The first will be Flying Tigers, starring John Wayne, in a story of American pilots fighting under the banner of Chiang Kai Chek.

There are six other John Wayne pictures, and numerous other adventure type productions with George Brent, Rod Cameron, William Lundigan, John Carroll, Bill Elliott, and Gabby Hayes.

POPULARITY POLL

The fourth popularity poll taken by Buffalo's WGR through its 2,000 members of TV Dance Party reveals Heartbreak Hotel to be first on the list. Why Do Fools Fall in Love has moved from third to second. Blue Suede Shoes now is third. I'll Be Home has dropped from second to fourth, and Eddie My Love has tumbled from first to fifth.

And completely off the list go No, Not Much, The Great Pretender, and Rock and Roll Waltz.

The favorite band is the Dorsey Brothers, up from second. Glenn Miller dropped to second, and Stan Kenton moved to third from sixth. Guy Lombardo and Benny Goodman are fourth and fifth.

Teresa Brewer still is first of the girl singers and Gale Storm stays in second. Pat Boone and Perry Como continue as first and second in the boy singers. Elvis Presley has moved to third from fifth. Dean Martin and Frank Sinatra are completely off the list.

The favorite vocal group is The Four Aces who have replaced The Four Lads, now third. The Platters, first time on the list, are second.

Debbie Reynolds continues as the favorite movie actress, and Rock Hudson takes over first among the men, dumping Tony Curtis to third. James Dean is second.

TV'S BEST

Several current programs suggest to us the very best of tv. We have in mind the kind of program that takes you places you could not possibly be, even if you had the time and could afford the trip. Last week you couldn't have attended the Kentucky Derby and a few minutes later have been present when two milers ran the distance under four minutes in California. Both exciting and unusual races.

Both were enjoyed on tv, and without the problem of traveling, finding lodgings, and sitting through many other races and contests of minor interest. A flip of the knob, a few minutes of comfortable waiting in your living room, and there they were. Finished, you were home with no crowd to buck, no traffic to fight, no miles to travel.

And there is See It Now. It is doing a pair of programs called Report From Africa. Edward R. Murrow puts you right into the center of the African problems, its life, and its realism. No need to travel there. No need to dig out all the facts, many of which most of us would find impossible to uncover.

You see leading people, key figures who would escape a personal visit. You listen to expert interpretation, and see all of it in its natural habitat.

The next of these will be done May 17. It will cover Algeria, Libya, Egypt, Ethiopia, Uganda, and the Sudan. All vital spots in a very troublesome portion of our globe. Any of which might cause our next war. All of them our problem to face.

You can see them on tv. If it did no more than take us to these places, giving us first hand the major events of the day, it would be worth having in the house. In fact, it is the main reason we can tolerate one in the place.

HOLLYWOOD HEADLINES will be featured by Ed Sullivan this coming Sunday night. June Allyson, Ann Blythe, Rosemary Clooney, Betty Grable, Betty Hutton, and Deborah Kerr will lend glamour galore to the program. But perversely, perhaps, they will not be there for the charming they can do, but to receive their City of Hope Awards as the outstanding Hollywood mothers of the year.

SUBBING FOR GODFREY is Paul Winchell and Jerry Mahoney on May 16. Eight singers and eight dancers will be their support, plus Jaye P. Morgan and Bobby Van.

TENNESSEE ERNIE is moving from 12 to 12:30. He will be seen

the "Farm Problem" is NATIONAL . . . BUT THE ANSWER TO IT IS OFTEN LOCAL

It has always been a tough job to solve the problems of millions of farmers with any one set of answers. But in the case of an individual farmer, especially if he is a local Warren County producer, this Bank has been notably successful in working out solutions that help build farm profits as well as peace-of-mind. We'd like to talk to you about your specific farm problems, any time.

PYMATUNING EXCEPTIONS

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has made several exceptions to the fish laws this year to assist those areas which border on other states. Such a location is Pymatuning Lake.

The season for muskellunge, black bass, and wall-eye will open May 26 on Pymatuning, instead of July 1. The November 30 closing date remains the same. The minimum legal length of lunge is 30 inches and the daily creel limit is two.

For black bass the minimum length will be nine inches instead of ten, but the daily creel limit of six stays the same. The legal length on wall-eye drops to twelve inches.

An angler at Pymatuning is allowed only two rods and lines or two lines in use or possession. And you can fish from either bank with either a Pennsylvania or Ohio license.

PLANT NOW FOR WILDLIFE

(The Game Commission has some advice to offer those who want to help feed or shelter our wildlife through planting, on their farms, camps or summer home property.)

At this time of year Game Commission representatives receive many inquiries from sportsmen and hunting camp groups asking what they should plant on their land as food and cover for wildlife. The situation varies in different sections of Pennsylvania, but the following suggestions are offered because of their general application.

Evergreens beautify hillsides, prevent erosion and provide protection for birds and animals. However, pure plantings of these trees do not offer all the requirements for wild game. It would be well to plant food-producing shrubs and trees alongside the conifers.

Fencerows planted to multiflora rose or other food and cover plants are a boon to rabbits, quail and pheasants. They also provide small wildlife with safe travel lanes across open areas. Border cuttings along field edges or camp or logging roads allow natural, low growths to flourish where formerly they could not grow because of dense shade. Such clearings also offer open places in which food-bearing shrubs and vines will thrive when planted.

Organizations and individuals planning to plant food plots should establish them beside heavy escape cover. It would be well to consider the clovers -- alsike, ladino, white dutch -- or a combination of them. Clover is an excellent game food, one having several desirable features. It is a perennial and is not entirely consumed in one season as are corn and other grains. Sweet soil is necessary for successful clover growing; acid soil must be neutralized.

Clover can be grown during dry periods, and the more it is used by game during the growing period the more food it will produce. When corn, for example, is clipped off by animals while the plant is immature, it is lost. In such a case there is no food production as intended for the emergency period in winter.

Pure stands of clover may be seeded. Ladino clover provides excellent food for wildlife. If a mixture is to be planted the local seedsman, county agriculture agent or Game Commission representative will gladly consult with sportsmen.

Aside from providing rabbits, deer and other animals with an abundance of food, the clovers also attract insect life, an important summer food for wild turkeys and grouse particularly.

FOX HUNTING PETITIONS GRANTED

Special fox hunting petitions from the following counties have been filed with the Game Commission and been approved: Butler, Erie, Indiana, Susquehanna, Westmoreland, and Venango.

The Game Law provides that 250 or more residents in any county who held a hunting license last year, or who are farmers or sheep raisers, may petition for the right to hunt foxes throughout the year except for a 60-day period. In 1956 this period is April 1 to May 30.

Valid fox hunting petitions filed later by residents of other counties will be recognized, as were those named above, through legal notices in newspapers of the counties affected.

EXPERT RIFLEMAN

Paul Dennis Mahaffy, 14, of RD 1, Warren, has won the Expert Rifleman Award, second highest award in American Junior shooting, according to the National Rifle association. To do this he shot through thirteen lower NRA qualifications in recent months, and can up his rating to Distinguished Rifleman, the select group in the nation, if he gets through another set of targets. He attends Beatty and naturally is a member of the Beatty Jr. High Rifle Club.

OTHERS BUILD SCHOOLS

If you think the Warren area school problem is unique, there are taxpayers in many Pennsylvania communities who could lend you some light. Pennsylvania, as is true throughout the nation, is faced with the problem of seating and teaching more students in better buildings. And on all sides you will find it being done. Let's look at a few.

The Moon twp. high school will serve 900 students. Its cost is a little less than two million, and it has an auditorium that will seat 950. It is prepared for a bit of expansion.

It also has a sewage disposal plant, radiant floor heat in much of the building including the gymnasium and auditorium, complete radio and public address system, a library seating 88.

Meadville is spending $2,500,000 to take care of 1100. Somerset is spending less than $900,000 for about 900 pupils. Abington twp. is sparing nothing. It will spend about four million and will have a swimming pool, large auditorium, 2,000 seats in its gym, and about every modern convenience you can name.

Chambersburg is spending about three million for building and equipment. It has a large auditorium, including a balcony and a movie screen. The gym seats 2,400. There is an elevator for crippled pupils, television outlets in all class rooms, tennis courts, parking lot for 400 cars, lighted athletic field, modern chemistry and physics laboratories, plus nearly every advantage you could ask for educational help.

Mt. Lebanon is adding to its present building and the new facilities include a 1600 auditorium, a swimming pool, and similar modern touches.

Parkland has 1400 pupils, a gym with 1500 seats, a swimming pool, and a plot of 88 acres. The cost is about $2,600,000 for building and equipment.

Brandywine Heights is spending close to two million and will have a school that will serve as the focal point for activities, both recreational and instructive, for the adults as well as the young people. It has made a study of the former pupils and has learned how many were absorbed by the community and by nearby agriculture. It has been designed to do a better job along this line.

Hempfield high school has cut many costly corners and has a school for less than $1,500,000, with an auditorium that will handle its 1,000 students. Its site is 27 acres, and it will spend another $93,000 to make an athletic field, walks, drives, and landscaping.

These are a few, selected at random and revealing the range of prices and facilities. The square foot cost seems to run around $14 to $17. Some have found economical ways of building and have failed to spend a dollar with a thought to the future. Others have allowed for expansion. And a few have economically built their schools to meet anticipated expansion without further construction. Their cost has been highest but will be the cheapest in the long run.

It also is evident that some have not hesitated to fight off the extensive one-story rambling that is pushed by many architects and have gone two stories, with greater capacity resulting at less cost. The buildings still are extensive, thus avoiding much conflation. An example of this is an effort to place auditoriums and gymnasiums so that they can be used concurrently and, at the same time as instructional rooms are occupied without dis-

The high priced ones are apt to include enclosed swimming pools and every known accessory, such as panel outlets for fractional and multiple voltages of alternating and direct voltages in lab work. Also greenhouses for agricultural experimentation, individual electric outlets for electric typewriters, photographic rooms, elevators, trophy rooms, slanted roofs on lockers for sanitary reasons, large libraries, dual heating systems, some of which is radiant, and about every shop item needed to train personnel for the plants of their communities.

Perhaps we can't afford all of this, but we have little doubt that we can not afford to provide most of it. Taxes will handle the bulk of the job and the state will pay a big share of that. We propose that additional seats be added to the auditorium through a public drive for additional funds, and that the building be constructed in such a way that if a swimming pool is financed through the efforts of a civic group in the future, it can be made a part of the high school so that it can be a combination outdoor and indoor pool, thus serving us many more days in a practical manner.

And we suggest that this should be done on an area of at least forty acres to prevent parking problems and to allow for expansion along many lines if the community so desires at a future time. Possibly the athletic field eventually will prove more practical if it is placed on this area.

We know one thing for sure. The people of the area want action. They are very tired of talk and are very much opposed to using the old building. If members of the school board doubt that, we wish they would find a way of putting it to a vote.

In fact one of the most common questions we are asked is, "What can we do to help get something done about this high school situation?" Perhaps a medium of action for these interested citizens will be provided soon.

DRAGONS LOSE FIRST

After four consecutive victories, the Warren high track and field squad fell to a 74 1/2 -- 52 1/2 defeat at the hands of Academy on the Erie oval Thursday afternoon. The strong Academy thinclads walked off with 10 out of a possible 15 first places, including both relays, and showed plenty of depth by taking half of both the second and third places available.

John Powley came through in the Dragon lineup. The big junior cracked the all-time Warren high record with a 4:40 mile and placed second in the 880-yard sprint to be top pointmaker for the locals. The former mile record set by John Watt in 1950 was 4:46.3.

Suppa and Greco provided a one-two punch in the 100-yard dash, as the former broke the string at 10.5. He ran it in 10.2 against Jamestown earlier last week. Three of the Blue and White wins occurred in the field where Shanshala threw the shot 45 feet and four inches, Bowen hurled the discus 125 feet, and Berdine and Kremer went five feet and four inches in the high jump.

THEN TWO MORE

Warren's track team wasn't down long. It knocked off a triangular meet at Smethport, scoring 56 1/5 to 52 1/5 for Kane and 12 3/5 for Smethport. Greco took the 100 in 10.4, Powley ran the mile in 4:45.8, Suppa, Lindquist, Casler, and Greco won the 880 relay in 1:37.3.

Hoffman took the 440 in :55, Greco ran the 220 in :22.9, Shanshala tossed the shot 47 feet 11 inches, and Lindquist got the broad jump with 18 feet, 7 1/2 inches. Kremer gained a tie in the high jump at 5 feet 6 inches, add three seconds and three thirds, plus a tie for second, and the Dragons come out four points to the good.

The big moment came when Greco tied Mahaffey's Warren mark in the 220.

Warren then visited Meadville and spiked the Bulldogs, 110 1/2 to 16 1/2. The only firsts given up were in the javelin and broad jump. No records were shaken but the lead men in every event hit close to their usual stride for certain points.

A postponed meet with Youngsville now will be run off, probably Friday, and the sectional will be held at Meadville, Tuesday. Then the district meet will be held May 19. Bradford is scheduled in between the district and the state meet on May 26.

LIGHTS WANTED

Northern Area hopes to play night games, if money can be raised to provide the illumination. The Northern Area Boosters are planning a drive for funds with which to erect lights on the athletic field.

PENN YORK OPENS

The Penn York baseball league will open May 26, with eight teams entered. The Warren Elks, managed by Don Gheres and Diz Hines, will meet Jamestown Moose at the Warren State hospital that date. Warren will go to Ludlow the following day for the second league game.

EAGLES DROP ONE

The Youngsville track team made a good showing against a big Oil combination on the Oiler field, Tuesday, but lost 74 1/3 to 43 2/3. The bigger school had a bit too much depth.

OPENING MONDAY

is the City Softball league, with a pair of games. Certified will meet Nicks on the West Side field, and New Bakers Cleaners will take on the NPC at the Warren State hospital.

NO OLYMPICS for Bob Benson, Warren grappler, who kept trying for a spot on the team despite many setbacks. He finally was eliminated by Don Hodge of the University of Oklahoma.

THE DIRT FLIES near Sugar Grove, Sunday, at eight, when the Skyline Speedway will open. Most of the area name speedsters will be on the track.

BIG TIME bowling will be faced by Pete Julianio when he trips to Rochester this week end for a shot in the ABC Masters. Thirty-two top keggers already are qualified and sixty-four others will shoot eight games for the right to meet them in match play. They roll four games Saturday, and another four, Sunday. Then it is match play, with two losses putting you on the sidelines.

IN THE MONEY paid out for scores in the Frewsburg doubles and singles tournament were several Warren ladies. Marjorie Ristau and Mary Bell had 1054 and received $11. Barb Weiland and Peg McGonnell received $6.80, and $6 was paid two other teams, Jaye Pappalardo and Stella Cerra, and Rose Hand and Madge Kehm.

Inez Brink had 573 to lead the Warren group in the singles and earn $10. Other winners were Neva Ladner, and Lenora Ward, $8; Konky Tridico and Helen Peterson, $6; Stella Cerra and Marian Campbell, $5.

ARCHERY COMPETITION for all ages will be made available Saturday, May 19, at 1:30, on Beatyfield, when the Warren YMCA will hold its all-city open tournament. There will be trophies and suitable prizes for boys, girls, and adults. Entry blanks may be secured at the YMCA.

PURDUE WILL GET Joe Kulbacki, who played a big share of Youngsville's football and basketball this past season. He also is a big part of the current Eagle track team.

WARREN GENERAL HOSPITAL PICTURES

AN IMPORTANT PHASE in the operation of the hospital is a staff meeting of doctors such as this. Here you see, reading clockwise, Doctors Hugh Robertson, John Thompson, Homer H. Lewis, Joseph Sugerman, Quay McCune, William Cashman, and Arthur J. O'Connor.

THE CENTRAL STERILE SUPPLY picture. Working at the autoclave room of the hospital is seen in this is Mrs. Esther McGraw, an aide.

THE CYSTOSCOPY ROOM of Warren General hospital contains an important x-ray machine to aid doctors in their examinations. The nurse is Miss Marlene Harrington, an x-ray technician.

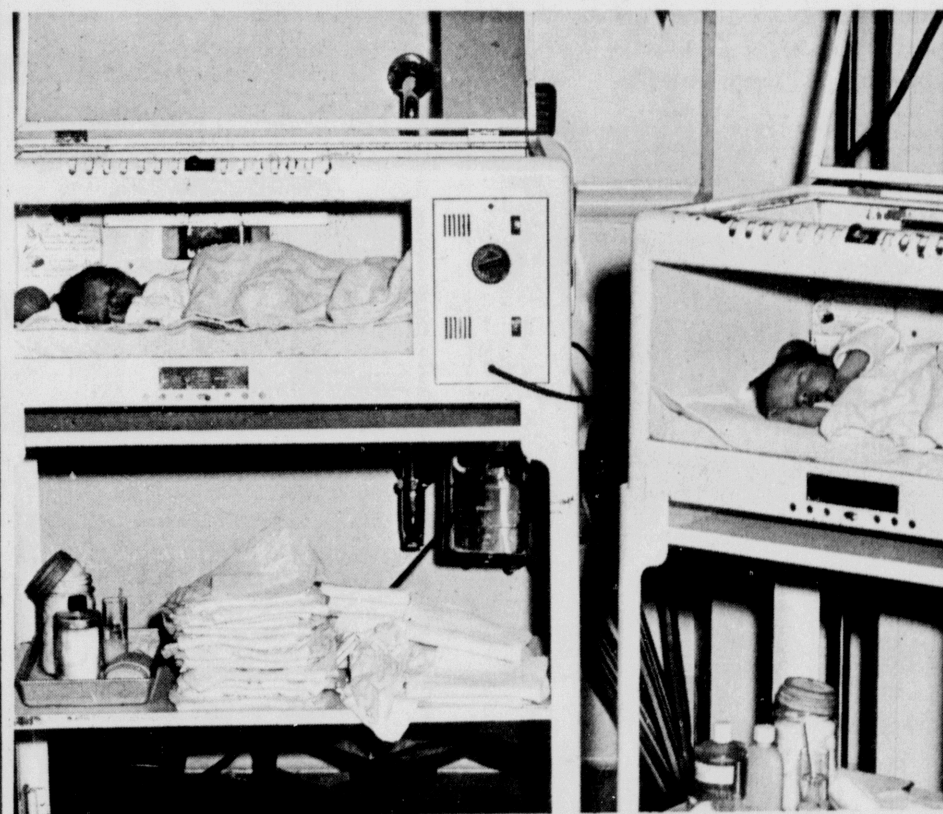

On the following pages are pictures of the Warren General hospital which is one of the best equipped in the country for a community of this size. With the appointment of a highly qualified administrator, Joseph A. Williamson, the hospital hopes to improve its general operation sufficiently well to obtain a national rating that will compare with the better hospitals of the country.

In the pictures you will find modern therapy machines, the cystoscopy room, professional employees, and the volunteers who play so important a role in a community of this size where the budget is limited. There also are pictures of operating and delivery rooms, in which many readers have expressed an interest.

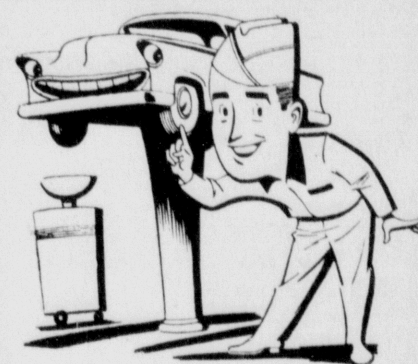

We hope these pictures will partly satisfy the curiosity and interest of those unable to attend the open houses held as a part of Hospital Week.

GRAY LADIES play a big role in making patients at the hospital comfortable. Miss Rose Neizmik, a nurse herself, is getting attention here from Mrs. George Cunningham and Mrs. Clara Dumond.

THE NEW BORN NURSERY is an interesting place to visit at the hospital. Here you see in incubators the twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mangini of Route 2, Russell, on April 25.

Claim Medical Education Is At High Level

There has been so much said about the lack of doctors and the failure of members of that profession to help relieve the situation. Perhaps you would like to hear their side of the story as expressed by Dr. Allen W. Cowley, of Harrisburg, chairman of the committee on public relations of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania is taking an active part in Medical Education Week, April 22 to 28, a national observance of medical education, its significance and its problems, and its aim to foster public interest in the private support of medical education.

"There have been myths about medical education which we hope to dispel through this educational campaign," declares Dr. Allen W. Cowley. "Many people hold on to the mistaken idea that medical schools arbitrarily attempt to keep their enrollments small, that they refuse admission to a vast number of applicants, that only 'A' students are admitted, and that medical school graduates are not keeping pace with the population growth.

"Actually, the six medical schools in Pennsylvania and the 75 other accredited medical schools of the country last year graduated more physicians, enrolled more students, and conducted more extensive research than at any other time in their history," explains Dr. Cowley. "All this is reflected in the health of the people, which, in the United States, is the best in the world."

Dr. Cowley points to conditions in medical education fifty years ago, when there were but a handful of reputable medical schools in this country while at the same time there were some 200 "diploma mills" operating where a young man, without any adequate education, could walk in the for the inclusion of medical schools in universities, teaching hospitals,

"The medical profession, under the leadership of the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals, began a vigorous housecleaning on these fly-by-night schools," Dr. Cowley says. "Today the standards of the medical schools are high and call for the inclusion of medical schools in universities, teaching hospitals, bedside instructions, and a pre-requisite of liberal arts and basic sciences for students. As a result, there is not one school of medicine in the United States now operating as a commercial concern for profit."

As of today, there is one doctor for every 730 persons in this country, a proportion exceeded only by Israel, which has an abnormal number of refugee physicians Dr. Cowley says. The number of physicians graduated from approved medical schools in the United States has increased 120 per cent since 1910 in comparison with increase in the general population of only 80 per cent. The 6,977 graduates from medical schools last year was the highest number on record, according to Dr. Cowley.

"Today we not only have more doctors but far better care than a generation or two ago," continued Dr. Cowley. "Now the doctor can treat a great many more patients thanks to modern transportation, highways, and communication; and he can treat them more efficiently and in less time thanks to the strides in medical progress. From the laboratories of our medical schools come the discoveries that have helped make us the most disease-free people in the world."

The myth that only "A" students can hope to get into medical schools is scouted by Dr. Cowley who presents figures to show that only 17 per cent of the entering freshman class last year had pre-medical averages of "A", while 69 per cent were "B" students and the remaining 14 per cent were "C" students. "Each year we are graduating an increasingly large number of physicians from our medical schools with the aid of enlarged facilities and at this time four new schools are under development and three of the two-year basic science schools are expanding into full-fledged medical schools," concludes Dr. Cowley. "This means that by 1960, seven new schools will be graduating physicians, increasing the number of doctors to approximately 7,500 a year - which give promise of constantly improved medical care and

A HANDY GADGET is a wheel chair, especially when it is equipped to accommodate broken legs and other problems that develop among those who visit hospitals. The Warren Lions Club donated this one to the Warren General, and here the committee can be seen formally presenting it. From the left they are L. R. Gibson, Jerry Waxman, the committee chairman, Joseph A. Williamson, hospital administrator, and Paul Yagge, who obviously could have used one of these things a few weeks ago.

"There should be safe bicycle paths in all cities so that executives could pedal to work" says Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower.

The U. S. Navy has declared war on traffic accidents by instituting a new safety campaign:

While Congress has been talking the past year about a Federal-aid highway program population has increased 2,800,000; motor vehicle registrations have gained

2,700,000 — and highway traffic is up 5.5 percent.

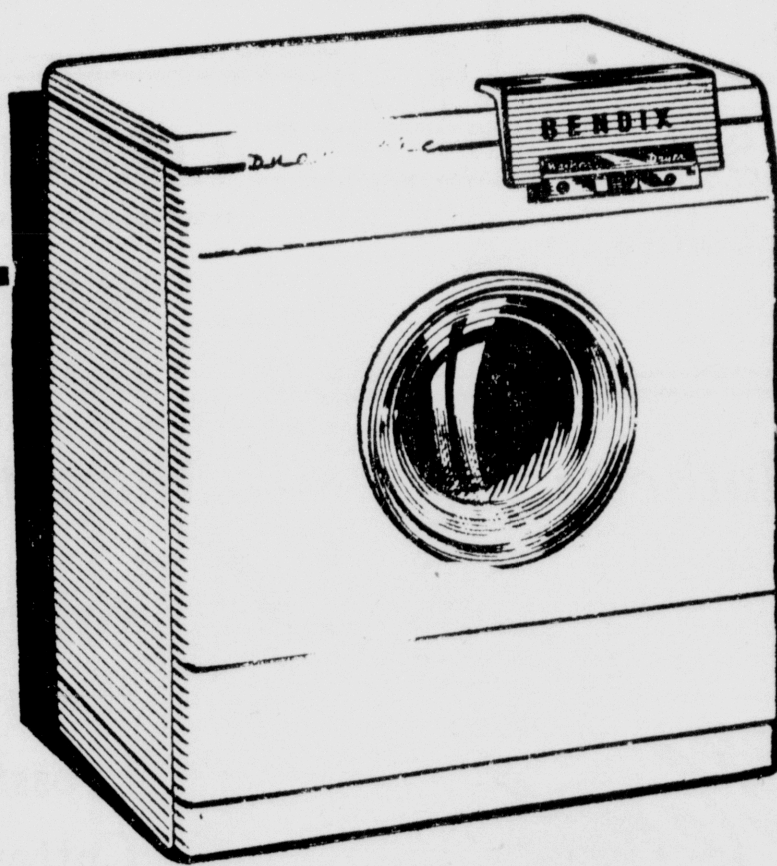

Motorists approaching New York City have a new attention getter in the four revolving beacons atop the 1472-foot-high Empire State Building. The beacons (shown above in artist's sketch) are powered by the brightest continuous source of man-made light in the world and can be seen by motorists as far as 80 miles from New York.

Safety standards for lap-type seat belts have been recommended by the Society of Automotive Engineers.

The removal of sirens from police cars in Chicago has resulted in fewer accidents for these vehicles . . . A traffic judge in Providence, R. I., makes traffic offenders read a newspaper editorial.

Women are Spending A Million Dollars a Week for the New Wash and Dry 1956 Bendix Duomatic

If you have ever seen this amazing machine do the work of both a washer and dryer, you would readily understand why women everywhere are trading in thousands of washers every week for the new Bendix Duomatics.

What makes the Bendix Duomatic so unique? What is it and what does it do? First—for clarity—let us emphasize that the Bendix Duomatic is not two separate units.

The Bendix Duomatic is one machine—one unit that both washes and dries your clothes in one continuous, completely automatic operation. If you wish, the Duomatic will also wash separately—or dry separately.

Once clothes are placed inside, and the dial set, the Duomatic thoroughly washes, then "sun-dries" your clothes . . . ready to wear, iron or fold away.

This complete wash-and-dry operation can take less than an hour — 32 minutes for Orions, Nylons and Dacrons.

Using the same wash-and-dry action as heavy duty commercial laundry equipment, the Bendix Duomatic gently, but positively, washes clothes spotlessly clean and then thoro-dries them without robbing the long life of any fabric.

Test after test by Home Economists have proven conclusively that clothes last far longer when washed and dried in a Bendix Duomatic. Manufacturers' tags on millions of miracle fabric garments specifically state "For Longest Wear, Wash and Dry in a Bendix Duomatic."

The Bendix Duomatic operates on either gas or electricity, and requires only 36 inches of floor space—almost half the space needed for a separate washer and dryer.

Constructed of gleaming lifetime porcelain and stainless steel and nickel, the Duomatic is engineered for exceptionally long usage.

Bendix Duomatic are now operating in hundreds of thousands of homes, washing and drying millions of tons of clothes year in and year out with a service-free record second to none.

Standing behind every Bendix product sold in Warren is Warren's largest localized laundry service organization with Warren's most advanced servicing facilities, and factory trained technicians.

If you are planning to buy a washer or a dryer, we suggest you look at the Bendix Duomatic at the Turner Radio Shop.

Why buy a separate washer or dryer when the Bendix Duomatic does the work of both?

Betty Lee loves everybody's mother

When all is said and done there is one who loves you most—your mother. Really loves you . . . sincerely, dearly . . . your mother. In a world in which there is not enough love, we think it especially fitting that there is set aside one day each year in which our whole nation joins to do special honor to this most wonderful one of all . . . your mother, who loves you most. Mother's Day is May 13. Let some mother . . . your own or the mother of someone dear to you . . . know that you appreciate her worth, her love. Let her know once again what she already knows but loves to be reminded of . . . that you love her with all your heart.

86th PRODUCTION

When the curtain goes up in the Woman's Club this evening on The Walrus and the Carpenter, it will be the 86th time that the Warren Players have given local audiences an evening of pleasure. The play runs three nights, opening each night at 8:30. You can do much worse than sitting down to a Players production. The audiences are well behaved. Popcorn isn't popped in your ear. The couple in front is not in a huddle. And there are no commercials. We believe you will enjoy Noel Langley's famous play.

NOT ALL SHAKESPEARE

It won't be all Shakespeare in Stratford, Ontario, this summer. Also to be seen will be three Moliere farces, "Le Mariage Forcé", "Sganarelle", and "L'Amour de Molière". They will be presented by this company at the Second International Festival of Dramatic Art in Paris last summer. They will be done in French four times during the nine weeks of the Stratford Festival, July 2, July 5, July 10, and July 13, in the Avon Theatre.

JAPAN BEATS HOLLYWOOD

We can't say about the quality, but in numbers the Japanese put together 422 full length films last year, which is more than the less than 400 produced by Hollywood. The Japanese have set a goal between 550 and 600 this year.

The Japanese exported 40 per cent more of their films than usual, while keeping their 4,000 theaters supplied. Movie fans bought 877, 000,000 tickets for these movies last year.

However, many of the Big 6 film companies and the 46 independents claim they didn't make any money. And even Japan expects tv to affect the industry by 1957.

JUNIOR GOLF PLANS

As we watch the Conewango Valley Country club make plans for its junior golfers this summer, we wish a similar program could be made available to all of the young people in Warren. The Club gives free lessons every Tuesday, with a variety of age groups, such as 6 to 8, 9 through 10, 11 through 14, and 15 through 18. There also are tournaments planned for each age group.

It is a real break for the young people who are eligible, but considering the population of the community, a very small percentage are enjoying the benefit of learning early the basic skills of a sport in which many will want to participate most of their lives.

AND TENNIS, TOO?

There is one sport in which the youth of the community can participate if the Jaycees get rolling. The ice rink saw good service last winter, but now will be of little benefit until it is equipped and lined for tennis. Lights, fence, and net posts must be completed or erected.

We are losing much of the benefit of hard-surfaced courts by not having them ready now. Clay courts are the best, but they are not available as often, because of the effect weather has on their surface. Hard-tops are ready to go immediately after a rain or in the early spring.

We understand that the playground supervisors plan to keep the courts open until 10:30 each evening, if the play warrants the late hour. If the demand is great, the hours can be extended.

In this sport we will have to develop interest. Instructions should be made available, even as golf lessons are handled at the country club. There is little future in any game that is started on a hit-or-miss basis, with as many styles as you have players.

Democrat Scramble
For Candidate

By Doris Fleenon

WASHINGTON. -- The rousing Southern welcome for Senator Lyndon B. Johnson on his return to Washington is the opening gun of a determined campaign by the Democratic center to call the signals on the party nominee and platform at Chicago.

The majority leader is well-placed to do the kind of political operating at which he excels. His smashing triumph over Governor Allan Shivers in the Texas primary has given his moderate forces the indispensable gloss of success. The party nationally must be grateful to him for removing the very real threat of a Shivers-led third party bolt from the convention.

It now becomes more than ever necessary for Adlai Stevenson to win the California primary from Senator Estes Kefauver if the Stevenson bid is to succeed. The former Illinois Governor has been accepted by the South as the best of present contenders, but the forces for which Johnson speaks are not enthusiastically pro-Stevenson.

If and when Stevenson falls back, the Johnson faction will move up. The candidate it is holding in reserve as of now is Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri.

This is not admitted and there is much talk of Johnson himself. The majority leader has been firm both in public and private in his insistence that his heart attack disqualifies him.

ARNOLD S. ZANDER, left, international president of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, is seen here with Edward Dailey, international representative of the same organization. Both may be the guests of the Warren State Hospital Local 460, on the Fourth of July. Jack Henry, treasurer of Council 26, expressed the state council's desire that Mr. Zander accept the invitation which was extended by Mr. Hagan, president of the local.

If anything but the Presidential virus were involved, this would be accepted at face value. Experience has taught the political trade, however, that "never" is much too long a time when used in connection with a Presidential candidacy.

Still it is expected that Johnson will go to the Chicago convention in command of a more or less informal coalition of Democratic conservatives. It will accept Stevenson if he is out in front and will make the best deal it can on the platform.

But if Stevenson doesn't make it almost at once, the coalition will oppose Governor Averell Harriman of New York, to whom the Stevenson forces are expected to turn. It will oppose Senator Kefauver to the bitter end, no matter how well Kefauver has done with the public.

At this point, former President Truman would be the major counterforce to the Johnson coalition. Truman would have to decide whether to fight to a finish for his friend, Governor Harriman, or join in the selection of a darkhorse.

And here the amazing paradox appears. The same Southerners who found Truman as President totally unacceptable are saying that the convention may in the end have to draft him as its best campaigner.

They think they can bank on his party loyalty -- a Truman trait they so often decried when it was used in ways they didn't like -- to accept, although he has just passed his 72nd birthday.

Against President Eisenhower, who is 65 and a recent heart attack victim, they insist Truman's age won't matter.

The Florida primary is being downgraded here. The situation there is so fluid that politicians say the primary returns will be of much less importance than was at first thought.

Thinks Church Losing Ground In Russia

In a recent Asides we mentioned that we did not believe the brief visit paid Russia by American clergymen was sufficiently thorough to reveal the actual work of the church. Though on the face of it, the controlled church must not look very promising, our sources of information say that there is a strong underground church, and that the word left by Christ is being taught to young people in family circles.

However, one reader writes:

April 26, 1956.

Editor,
The Warren Observer:-

In your article, "Inside Russia", it was stated that "the church is stronger than it looks".

The church in Russia as our religious leaders have seen on their recent visit is completely in the hands of the Communists from the Patriarch down to the humble parish priest. All Catholic and genuine Orthodox bishops have been destroyed or removed and replaced by MVD men who spy on the people.

Recently, Archbishop Joseph Slipy, metropolitan of the archdiocese of Lemberg, Ukraine, has expressed his shock and amazement at the silence of the Christian world while the Russian Communists prepare a final stroke against the Ukrainian Catholic Church. Archbishop Slipy has been imprisoned by the Russian Communists together with eight other Ukrainian Catholic bishops and thousands of priests, nuns and faithful. This message of the incarcerated archbishop, who has become a complete cripple because of his barbaric confinement, was smuggled out by fellow Ukrainian prisoners who have escaped to the West since then.

I cannot believe that the Christian church is strong under such despicable and diabolical persecution from a hostile and ruthless government. Perhaps, in the silence and intimacy of the courageous few the spark of faith endures. - Deo Volente.

God Bless you,
Theodore Bleech - city

(The writer also included a copy of the Ukrainian Bulletin in which he had marked the following article.)

"The Ukrainian Evangelical Alliance of North America in a letter to Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, President of the National Council of Churches, and Chairman of a forthcoming delegation of Protestant churchmen to the Soviet Union, has requested the delegation to find out what has happened to Ukrainian Evangelical ministers and leaders of the Ukrainian Autocephalic Orthodox Church and the Greek-Catholic Church in Ukraine, many of whom have disappeared since communism came to power. The letter specifically names such Metropolitan of Kiev as Vasyl Lypkivsky and Mykola Borecky, and such Protestant ministers in Ukraine as Theodosy Semeniuk, Theodore Jarchuk, Vasyl Volosianka and Sergius Ostapovich who have vanished without trace.

"The letter urges the American delegation to challenge the present leadership of the Russian Orthodox church to see that the rights of these liquidated churches are restored and their clergy, if still alive, to renew their work.

"The Alliance questions the genuineness of the present 'freedom of religion' theme in the Soviet Union unless these steps are taken.

"The letter further asks the National Council of Churches delegation to press for a lifting of the Iron Curtain in religious matters so that churches in Ukraine and in other parts of the Soviet Union can be freely contacted by churches in other parts of the world and can establish their theological schools, publish Bibles, hymnbooks and religious literature without restraint.

"The letter affirms the belief that the National Council of Churches delegation is already alert to many of the problems which compromise religious freedom in the USSR but expresses the hope that these specific requests from the Alliance may be favorably considered. The letter closes with an expression of hope that the delegation may be 'richly blessed and guided by the Spirit of God in their important and responsible task.'"

The letter and the article fairly well prove our original point. On the face of it, the Christian religion is taking a licking. But obviously there is a strong undercurrent, and there are those who are standing by their beliefs despite persecution.

The church has been underground before, and has come through. Communism does not have the moral fibre to hold up. The church will win. Of course we must help, and we should publicize every bit of persecution which we can prove.

If there is any place in the world where a missionary job is needed, it is in Russia. It is our strongest weapon, and with courageous help it will win for Russian people the freedom they have been promised but have not received.
